The Ailey School Independent Study Program

Projected Total Costs and Debt to Complete the Program For 2019-20

As this program is designed to be completed in one year, students can anticipate paying approximately $11,600 for tuition and fees to complete this program within a year. As described in the projection of costs below for 2019-20 school year, there are additional expenses to consider. The projection of those costs are accurate at the time of posting but may change according to each student's circumstances.

The median cumulative amount of debt for all Title IV students including private, institutional, and Federal student debt for students who received Title IV aid at any point for attendance in the program is $5,500. However, it should be noted that “dependent” students can borrow up to $5,500 Direct Loan debt, and “independent” students can borrow up to $9,500 in Direct Loan debt to complete the program. As for other type of student loans, it is very rare for any student to borrow a private loan, and no students graduate with an Ailey student loan as the School does not offers these.

Programs of The Ailey School are exempt from licensure pursuant to Section 5001 (2) (f) of New York State Education Law.
